10 PER CENT CUT MADE TO REDUCE COSTS

Two Schools To Be Closed as Funds for Operation Decrease.

TAX SHORTAGE BLAMED

Supt. Bowman Says Schools Face Deficit of $70,000 for 1932.

Salaries of Marion city school employees for the next term will be cut 10 per cent and two grade schools will be closed in an effort to reduce school costs in proportion to an obvious shortage of school funds for the fiscal year 1932.

Reduction of salaries and the suspension of the two schools and a number of other minor economies, were authorized by the board of education in a special meeting yesterday. Even with the reductions and eliminations authorized yesterday, the board of education is faced with a deficit of $70,000 for the fiscal year 1932.

Teachers for the next school term were employed by the board of education yesterday. A list of the teachers appears on page 3.

day, operation of the schools for a full nine-month term is not absolutely assured, Supt. George A. Bowman said today.

All retrenchment plans were made on suggestion of Superintendent Bowman, who outlined a suggested course of procedure in a written message to the board.

Plans call for the discontinuance of the Davis street school with a transfer of pupils to Glenwood school, and closing Lincoln school with a transfer of pupils to the Pearl street school on the same lot. The improvement and repair program in all buildings will be limited. Plans for broadening the junior high school program and of providing more adequate supervision in the elementary schools have been temporarily abandoned.

Statements which follow formed part of the written message of Superintendent Bowman to the board, which was sanctioned as a policy for the coming year.

"The critical financial situation may only be a temporary one, as the legislature at present is drafting new tax laws for the state. But the fiscal year beginning Jan. 1, 1932, will bring financial worries to the local schools as well as other Ohio schools.

"Two factors have contributed to the critical outlook for 1932. If delinquent taxes continue at the present rate, the estimated shortage in school revenue from this cause alone will be between $40,000 and $50,000 in 1932. The other factor is the shrinking tax duplicate. When the budget for the fiscal year beginning Jan. 1, 1931, was drawn a 10 per cent reduction on the valuations, for taxation purposes, of real estate and buildings in the city and county had not been made. This cut reduced the duplicate $3,000,000, decreasing the school income from taxes by $20,000. This year the reappraisal of city property has been completed.

MARION STORES WILL CLOSE MEMORIAL DAY

City and County Officers Also Announce Observance of Holiday.

Following the usual custom, a general closing of all stores, offices, banks and building and loans will be observed Saturday, Memorial day. Mayor L. Don Jones said today all offices in the city hall would be closed. The same plan will be followed at the court house and all offices will be closed.

Department stores will not be open later than the usual closing time Friday while shoe stores and men's clothing stores will remain open until 9 p. m., Kenneth E. Fields, secretary of the Retail Merchants bureau said this morning.

Because of the two day vacation period, some of the grocery stores will open several hours Saturday morning. This applies principally to the neighborhood stores. The uptown groceries and meat markets will be closed all day.

Prayer vs. Airplanes

Cash for Three Things

The Next War

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

WITH THE GREAT display by the clergymen above New York, the clergymen should be no fighting. Everything should be peaceful.

It should be, and so it isn't. What would the clergymen suggest as a substitute for airplanes? War. Would they suggest prayer?

In another war, as in the late war, the clergymen would be praying for the soldiers and sincere praying. As we assume that our prayers would be more efficacious than the prayers of others? What would they say about the divine mind? At best the result must be uncertain.

On the other hand, there is no certainty about airplanes. Their carrying capacity, the power of bombs and poisons that they would drop can be calculated definitely.

GOOD TIMES or bad, men will need money for three things—gambling, smoking, and drinking. The worst of the three is gambling. The Irish Sweepstakes, to help build Irish hospitals, total $12,500,000. Hospitals will be more than $3,000,000, gambling about $5,000,000; expenses will eat the rest. There will be many prizes of $150,000, also $75,000 and $50,000 and smaller prizes, totaling $100,000 in all.

Five millions have bought tickets and whether they win or lose they are a little nearer to the certainty that they will never make any permanent success. Gambling is more than 1,000 to one against winning any prize.

JOHN SWADLING, 96 years old, will surely march in the Oklahoma memorial day parade next Saturday, but is not quite sure about his dog Teddy.

That faithful creature is 23 years old, and Mr. Swadling says, "That's pretty old for a dog, but 96, that's young for a man." Ninety-six really will be young for a man 10 days to come. Each mammal lives about 10 times the age at which it reproduces its kind, some much longer.

Man, therefore, should live to 90 and be able after 100 years of work to say, with certainty, "Now for 50 years of relaxation, to think see the earth, contemplate the stars."

GEN. VON LUDENDORFF predicts another European war in 1932, "more ferocious than the last war." England, allied with Italy would attack and blockade France.

Fortunately, it is only a nightmare. England knows too much about the size of the French air force to undertake any blockade, now out of date so far as Europe is concerned.

French airmen would fly over the British ships, sink them on the way and move on to destroy London, Liverpool and Manchester.

To say, as Ludendorff does, that the next war will be worse than the last is to discuss an uncertainty. We don't know yet how bad the last war was, or shall not know until this depression, born of that war, is ended.

THE LATEST British air news says the statement of Lieut. Williams of our navy: "Americans

Application To Discontinue Passenger Service Denied

RAILROAD SAYS LOSS $38,771

Bucyrus and Mt. Gilead Protest Request of New York Central Lines.

By International News Service COLUMBUS, O., May 26—Application of the New York Central Lines, Ohio division, to discontinue passenger service on the Toledo to Thurston route, today was denied by the Ohio public utilities commission.

In a hearing before the commission last week, the railroad interests cited a $38,771 deficit in passenger service over the Toledo-Thurston route for 1930. Service other than passenger, reflected a more profitable business. Railroad figures show that the mail and express business had been shouldering some of the burden which passenger service failed to bear in the matter of revenue.

Several large communities are served on the Toledo to Thurston route. Among those who attended the hearing last week in protest of the railroad's application were representatives of Bucyrus, Mt. Gilead, Johnstown and Granville. Each declared that his community needed the present service.

The New York Central offices in Columbus, early today were not prepared to say whether they would appeal the decision. In case of appeal, the next resort must be the Ohio supreme court.

CANTON SLAYER DIES IN CHAIR

James Romeo Pays Penalty for Murder of Bank Messenger.

By The Associated Press COLUMBUS, O., May 26—His eyes open until the death mask hid his face, James Romeo, 30, paid with his life in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary last night for the slaying of a Canton bank messenger.

Romeo, neatly dressed in a dark blue suit, light shirt and black and white necktie, was pronounced dead at 8:39 p. m. five minutes after he walked unaided into the death room. He was attended by Father Albert O'Brien, Catholic chaplain.

Carries Crucifix
The doomed man wavered slightly as he entered the chamber, apparently uncertain which way to go. His confusion passed quickly, however, as his eyes found the chair to which he walked with sure step, a crucifix in his hand and Father O'Brien at his side.

He kissed the crucifix while still standing. Once seated, Romeo faced the assembled witnesses with open eyes, his head tilted slightly to a side and his lips closed. His eyes blinked rapidly as the guards adjusted the electrodes to his legs and head, but otherwise emotions were smothered until the end.

Romeo was convicted of killing Charles N. Riblet, 68-year-old messenger for the First Trust and Savings bank of Canton in a holdup. One of the robbers, Charles Kish, was killed by Riblet as he fell mortally wounded. The second escaped, taking $60,000 carried by the messenger. The money was found in Romeo's room.

Plea to White Falls
Romeo's last hope faded when Governor George White refused to extend executive clemency, late yesterday. The governor granted a 30-day reprieve last month when Ed Scheck, Akron attorney, reported he had new evidence showing that Romeo was a victim of mistaken identity. Yesterday, however, Scheck told the governor he had failed to collect all of the evidence and a further stay was denied.

"BEARS" WARNED

N. Y. Stock Exchange Members Told to "Watch Their Step."

By The Associated Press NEW YORK, May 26—The New York stock exchange has, in effect, warned bears to watch their step. Members today received a questionnaire from the exchange demanding full information regarding bearish operations of themselves or their clients.

This is the first time, so far as has become publicly known, that the exchange's committee on business conduct has begun an extensive investigation of the bears since the troublesome days of last autumn.

The exchange's rules impose severe penalties for operations designed to depress share values artificially, although the exchange is not opposed to legitimate short selling.

NEW INVESTIGATION ASKED IN TENNESSEE

Legislature Requested To Turn Probe Spotlight on Governor Horton.

By The Associated Press NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 26—The legislature is being asked to investigate its investigators of state affairs and also to consider a resolution for appointment of a committee to determine if Governor Henry H. Horton should be impeached.

The moves both for and against the administration followed a report of the legislative investigating committee yesterday which charged that Horton had been largely dominated by Col. Luke Lea, newspaper publisher and politician, and Rogers Caldwell, fallen financier. A minority of the committee, however, said the majority had listened only to "such facts, hearsays, suspicions and conclusions" that would promote "their plan to compel certain public officials to stand public trial."

The committee's investigation of state affairs was investigated by the failure last fall of four large banks in which Lea and Caldwell were interested and in which nearly $7,000,000 of state funds were on deposit.

The move to investigate the investigators was announced by Representative Grover Harris who said he planned to introduce a resolution to that effect.

CIVIC CALENDAR TO LIST EVENTS

Clearing House Group and Jr. C. of C. Devise Schedule Plan.

A project which will serve to prevent conflicting dates in entertaining conventions, the presentation of church, school and other civic enterprises and programs of interest to the entire community, has been instituted in the Clearing House organization, with headquarters at the chamber of commerce office.

The idea, which was suggested by members of the Junior chamber of commerce, is the placing of a calendar listing civic events in the office of the chamber of commerce, and organizations are requested to consult this program before arranging definite dates for conventions, meetings or other events. It also is requested that clubs, societies and other organizations list their dates as early as possible in order to keep the program up-to-date and active.

Among the organizations listing dates for coming events is the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs whose members will entertain the district group convention here Oct. 12 and 14.

Official "Cracking" Delayed by A's as Macks Win Two

PRESBYTERIANS HANDED FIRST DEFEAT OF SEASON BY U. B. NINE 5-4; ST. PAUL LOSES 6-2

BOZINIS TAKES EASY WIN OVER MARCELLE IN WRESTLING SHOW

Semi-Final Ends in Dispute as Referee's Decision Is Overruled

Two crab holds gave Nick Bozinis an easy victory over Dug Marcelle in the main go of last night's wrestling program at the Steam Shovel gym. The bout lasted 14 1/2 minutes with the first fall coming in 10 minutes.

Bozinis was more than a match for Marcelle. The husky Canadian couldn't solve Nick's defense and seemed unable to put on any punishing holds. It was a good wrestling match in which the rough stuff of previous cards was lacking.

The boys are still debating on who won the semi-final engagement between "Father" Lumpkin, the Georgia Tech football star, and Clyde Robinson of St. Louis. Mo. Robinson took the first fall and Lumpkin the second. The third and deciding spill is in doubt. Referee Clete Kauffman awarded it to Lumpkin when Robinson disregarded repeated warnings against the use of rough tactics. The boxing commission decided that Clete was wrong and declared the fall a draw. About the only thing left is to pick Robinson as the winner, just to be different. Most of the fans were inclined to see the match from the referee's standpoint. The fans disliked Robinson's slugging and choking tactics.

Robinson took the first fall in 10 minutes with an airplane spin and slam. Starting with a flying tackle and ending with a slam, Lumpkin took the second in nine minutes. The last fall lasted nine and a half minutes when stopped by Kauffman.

Carl Beighler had a tough time of it in the preliminary before defeating Emory Zahn of Springfield with a reverse body slam in 11 minutes.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

THE United Brethren recreation baseball team furnished the only real upset of yesterday's games in the No. 2 Sunday school circuit, hanging the first defeat of the season on the First Presbyterian nine by a 5 to 4 count. Central Christian Seniors also handed St. Paul Lutherans their first beating of the season by a 6 to 3 score although this result was not entirely unexpected. Wesley M. E. entered the win column for the first time in three starts by taking a 2-0 shutout from Forest Lawn Presbyterians. Central Christian No. 1 and First Reformed played a 2-2 deadlock, which was called on account of darkness at the end of the seventh.

Errors Plentiful
Errors get the credit for winning more ball games yesterday than good baseball. The Presbyterians' defeat can be charged to miscue on the part of the losers in the fifth inning and Forest Lawn very graciously handed Wesley its two run margin with some almost inexcusable bobbles in the infield.

Dutch Zuppan turned in a good game on the mound for the United Brethren. He was clouted for several extra base hits by the Presbyterians but tightened in the pinches and left the losers with a flock of runners stranded on the base paths. The losers collected four doubles and a triple but still couldn't win.

Tony Lashley hurled his best game of the season for Wesley and not content with this banged out two of his team's three safe hits and scored one of the two runs. Forest Lawn played just as good a ball as the winners with the exception of two errors at shortstop which cost them the game. Kellogg, Forest Lawn hurler, was derelict in the fifth when he developed a streak of wildness.

Central Christian Seniors snapped the two game victory streak of St. Paul Lutheran by handing the Windsor street church a 6 to 2 beating. Overfield clouted a homer for the Christians in the seventh with two on.

The Christian No. 1 game with First Reformed ended with the score 2-2 at the end of the seventh and the game was called. Both teams drove out three safe bingles. Score by innings and batteries of the four games:

Christian No. 1 000 020 0-2
First Reformed 010 010 0-2
Christians, Rank and Hinklin; Reformed, Schwaderer and Burkley.

Christian Seniors 120 000 3-6
St. Paul Lutheran 020 000 0-2
St. Paul, D. Lindsey and Honaker; Christian Amick and Overfield.

Wesley M. E. 010 100 0-2
Forest Lawn 000 000 0-0
Wesley, Lashley and Layman; Forest Lawn, Kellogg, Winters and G. Peardon.

United Brethren 000 041 0-5
Presbyterians 001 021 0-4
United Brethren, Zuppan and Noble; Presbyterian, Shoemaker and Conroy.

FAVORITES TODAY

Picking probable winners in today's No. 1 Sunday school games is just about the most hazardous pastime unearthed as yet. At least three of the games are tossups and the fourth is likely to be hard-fought. As a result, predictions are extremely difficult to make. But here they are:

Trinity Baptist to beat St. Mary; Lee Street to beat the Lutherans; Epworth No. 1 to start winning against Epworth Seniors and Epworth Bishops to win from Calvary, their old jinx.

OHIO CONFERENCE IN ANNUAL TRACK MEET

218 Athletes, Record Number, Entered for Competition in State Championship.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., May 24—Fifteen of the 19 members of the Ohio conference have entered teams in the annual "Big Six" track carnival to be held at Oberlin Friday and Saturday. Two hundred and eighteen men, an unprecedented number, have entered.

Ten of the 15 colleges are entering full teams and will compete for the team trophy. The number of schools entered, the number of full teams entered and the number of individuals entered break all records for the "Big Six" carnival.

With such a heavy entry list predictions as to the winner could hardly be more uncertain.

Heidelberg is particularly strong this year in weight events and the hurdles, their strength lying in Vokaty, who is the Big Six shot put champion, and who placed third this year in the Ohio relay. Muskingum is likewise well represented in the shot and discus and has a good crew of distance runners.

The Muskingum high jumper, who placed second last year, is still with the team.

Ohio Northern has three outstanding men: Siberling, 100-yard sprinter, and holder of the conference record; Scheele, discus and shot man; and Schaeffer in the distance events. Xavier generally produces a number of good dash men but it is still undecided how many men the Cincinnati school will send.

YANKS PASTED ALL OVER PARK AS CHAMPS TAKE DOUBLE HEADER

American League Turned into Rout by Philadelphians; Cleveland Wins, 7-6

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was another parcel of bad news today for the large but select group awaiting the official "cracking" of the Philadelphia Athletics. About all Connie Mack's young men appear likely to crack this season is the existing American league record of consecutive victories.

By defeating the New York Yankees twice yesterday, 4 to 2, and 16 to 4, the champions ran their string to 17 straight and staked themselves to a five-game lead over the field. This because of rain at Boston, the Washington Senators eased into second place.

If they win from the Yankees the next two afternoons, the Athletics will tie the American league mark for consecutive triumphs, set by the Chicago White Sox in 1906. The most significant feature of yesterday's double win was the pitching of Leroy Mahaffey. He held the Yankees to one hit for the first seven innings and fanned five. He had nothing to worry about after his mates fitted him out with a nine-run lead in the first inning. Lefty Grove scored his fifth consecutive victory in the first game.

Wes Ferrell had to rush to Willits Hudlin's aid in the ninth inning before the Cleveland Indians could record a 7 to 6 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Rain halted the only other game scheduled in the American.

The Chicago Cubs pounded three pitchers for 11 hits to defeat Pittsburgh, 9 to 6, in the National league's lone encounter.

FRENCH DEFEATED IN TENNIS TITLE PLAY

English Speaking Stars Are Winners in Hard Court Championships.

By The Associated Press
AUTEUIL, France, May 24—Invaders have marched off with three titles in the French hard court tennis championships and the tricolor has small hopes of saving either of the two yet to be decided. English-speaking stars have won the men's, women's and mixed doubles and offer just as formidable a challenge for the men's and women's singles.

George Lott and John Van Ryn of Philadelphia made a runaway of their match with the South Africans. Virgil Kirby and Norman G. Farquharson, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 yesterday to give America the doubles championship for the first time since Vinnie Richards and Howard Kinsley won it in 1926.

Last week the women's doubles went to Betty Nuthall and Eileen Bennett Whittinghall of England and the mixed doubles to Miss Nuthall and P. D. B. Spence of South Africa.

In the men's singles, America depends upon Left and Van Ryn and in women's singles upon Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., and Virginia Hillyear of Philadelphia. England also was entered some formidable players in both singles divisions.

BREWER LEAD CUT TO ONLY SINGLE GAME

Columbus Gains Ground in Association Race Although Idle Monday.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, May 24—St. Paul's current lead in the American Association pennant race today had been reduced to a single game.

The Saints lost a chance to add a half-game to their margin over the idle Columbus Red Birds by dropping the second game of the series to Kansas City, 4 to 3 in 10 innings.

Milwaukee was outlived, 13 to 10, by Minneapolis, but came up with an 8 to 5 victory to make it two in a row. Home runs from the bats of Art Shires, Jack Kioza and Jack Tavenner, the latter's second in two days, were big factors in the Brewer victory.

Joe De Berry outpitched Alex Ferguson and Bachman, to give Louisville a 5 to 2 victory over Toledo.

Court Postpones Ruling on Schmeling-Stribling Bout

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., May 24—Whether W. L. "Young" Stribling will be allowed to meet Max Schmeling for the heavyweight championship here July 3 will be decided next week by Common Pleas Judge Thomas M. Kennedy.

The judge announced after a hearing yesterday that he would take a few days to consider the injunction suit of Attorney Joseph H. Mellon, who claims the bout is a prize fight and thus prohibited by Ohio law.

The drawing Georgia contender, himself the last defense witness, said he had knocked out 127 opponents in 226 bouts and admitted he "proposed to contend" with Schmeling, a "noted pugilist."

"The fight will exhaust one of you until he will no longer be able to withstand the attack of the other," asked Mellon.

"Oh, my no," interjected Judge Kennedy. "Why, that would be a prize fight."

Isn't it a fact, Mr. Stribling, that you may knock out Schmeling, Illinois corporation which holds a contract on Carnera's services until December 31.

"Let's hope so," said the judge.

Forecasted Upturn Follows Completion of Questionnaire by Committee.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, May 26.—An irrefutable forecast of share prices is being made finally after the long-expected upturn in the stock market.

It was announced before the close of the exchange's completion of the questionnaire that a general upturn in the market was expected.

The committee of the bearishness were not frightened by the immediate or hasty withdrawal of moderate waves of selling which began to sweep over the market.

There was a sinking spell at the opening, and another just before the close, but the market gained strength in the early morning.

Early losses of 1 to 2 points were cancelled or modified by gains of similar extent, and the market closed at 93 1/2, a gain of 3 points.

There was a strong spot, rising 4 points, and another just before the close, but the market gained strength in the early morning.

Today in Marion Markets

...
Groceries, Produce, Meat, Grain, Livestock

Today found little change on local markets. Prices were about the same as yesterday with large supplies of practically all kinds of fruits and vegetables. A small quantity of sweet corn was being carried by dealers that was selling slow at from 40 to 60 cents a dozen. The quality is good. Dealers, however, report few sales. Cucumbers at five cents each, have reached an unusually low price. A large supply with only a light demand, is given as the cause for the low price.

Strawberries were selling at from 25 to 35 cents today, the 20 cent berries having disappeared from the market. Some Tennessee berries were on the market although the bulk of the supply continues to come from Alabama. Kentucky berries are looked for the latter part of the week.

Butter and egg prices showed no change today, butter was selling at from 31 to 35 cents and eggs at from 19 to 24 cents. An advance in butter on city markets has not as yet affected local prices.

GAIN FOLLOWS SLOW START

Reported Dust Storms in Canada Exert Influence on Chicago Market.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, May 26.—Grains advanced early today after an irregular start. Reports of dust storms in Canada and of wheat crop deterioration in Kansas were largely responsible. Opening 1/4 cent off to 1/2 up, wheat afterward rose all around. Corn started 1/2 lower at 1/4 higher, touching a new bottom price record for the season, but subsequently scored general gains.

Canadian advices of high temperatures and strong winds, with continuance of dust storms predicted, brought increased anxiety regarding drought damage to spring wheat, and gave incentive to buying. Bulls laid stress also on telegraphic reports from a Chicago crop expert that between Colby and Norton, Kan., wheat showed short straw, was thin on the ground, and needed good treatment up to harvest to make a fair yield.

Nebraska messages said that unless rains were received within the next four or five days, the wheat crop situation would be serious, that fields looked brown, and stubble wheat would be plowed under.

European wheat crop reports, as well as domestic and Canadian, favored believers in high prices. Damage by frost in the Balkans was confirmed, central Europe and Spain were too dry in many sections, and Italian and French crops backward. Corn and oats advanced with wheat, after price downturns early in corn as a result of favorable weather conditions over the corn belt.

Provisions were responsive to weakness of hog values.

Loans
upto $1000
Remember when it was a sort of bad to pretend poverty. The richest man in town who rode in an old buggy long after his less prosperous neighbors had cars—and, when asked why, groaned, "Oh my! I can't afford it"—is a thing of the past.

It's just as poor taste these days to moan about being poor as it is to boast of riches.
You can buy more with a dollar today than has been possible for years. And borrowing the money to buy is not foolish, but wise—a real economy—as time will prove. Borrow the money at The City Loan and buy a few of the things you've always wanted, while they are cheap.

COUNCIL RENEWS NOTES FOR PAVING

To Pay Five and One-Fourth Per Cent Interest for Loans.

Notes totaling $159,490.00 issued by the city last July to pay both the city's and property owner's portion of the cost of street improvements and sewers, were renewed by city council at its meeting last night. The notes which are being held by the Ryan & Southerland Co. of Toledo, were renewed for five and one quarter per cent.

The notes were issued to pay for the improvement in anticipation of the sale of bonds to take up the notes when the improvements were completed and the exact cost obtained. Due to the fact, however, that the costs have not yet been distributed between the city and property owners, the notes were renewed for another year.

The notes are for $31,869.20 for the property owner's portion and $26,841.76 for the city's portion of the cost of improving Commercial street, north Prospect street and Silver street. The sum of $12,811.90 for the property owner's portion and $2,437.78 for the city's portion of the cost of building sewers in Davis street, Scranton avenue and Patterson street and $39,458.96 for the property owner's portion and $46,060.50 for the city's portion of the cost of resurfacing and widening Main street from George street to Columbia street.

Council also passed an ordinance transferring the sum of $200 from the general fund to the safety fund.

MEMBERS OF LA RUE CHURCH HONOR THREE

Farewell Party Held at School; Trio Moves to Lexington.

Special to the Star.

LA RUE, May 26—Members of the La Rue church entered into a farewell social in honor of Mrs. Ella MacDonald, Miss Carrie Hill and Miss Gladys MacDonald, who left Monday for their new home in Lexington. The affair was held in the cafeteria of the school building where a social program was given. Chester Kutz played several violin selections accompanied by Miss Dorothy Louise Burroughs. H. M. Coddling gave a reading and short talks were given by Thurl Stephens, Rev. J. A. Winkler, Dr. H. A. Hoopes and E. E. Blazer. Mrs. MacDonald and Miss Hill sang a vocal duet after which Rev. Winkler, pastor of the church presented the honored ones with a floor lamp from the church. Those aside from the honored guests and members present were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hoopes and daughter, Mrs. W. E. Thew, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Blazer, Mrs. Deulah Johnson and son Billie, Ivan Cooper and Chester Kutz of La Rue. Miss Mary Allen of Akron, Miss Gladys McMann of Marion, Miss Gertrude Van Arsdale and Miss Boudell of Kenton, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Harrie, Marselles, and Mr. Corder of New Lexington.

Mrs. J. A. Winkler was hostess to the Women's Missionary and Guild societies of the Presbyterian church at her home Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Winkler presided for the meeting and Rev. Winkler conducted devotionals. Roll call responses were scripture verses. During the business session Mrs. Eva Thuma was elected vice president to succeed Mrs. Winkler who automatically became president due to the death of Mrs. I. S. Guthery. Mrs. F. L. Topliff had charge of the home topic, "The Spanish Speaking People of the Southwest." Mrs. Ella MacDonald read the foreign topic on "Colombia." Mrs. J. C. Thuma gave the report of the Presbyterian meeting at Marysville in April. She also read a poem entitled "Meditation." During a short business session of the Guild society, Mrs. Laura Raub was elected treasurer to fill the office caused by the resignation of Mrs. Winkler. The hostess served refreshments assisted by Mrs. Topliff.

Apple a Day Business Hard on Doctors Here

THE old adage, "An apple a day, keeps the doctor away," was a "fruitful" saying in Marion last winter—in more ways than one.

Employees in Marion's business district ate 25,000 apples bought from the four sellers who canvassed the up-town section each day in the winter, offering the red-checked cider fruit for sale.

The sellers emptied 250 boxes of 100 apples each, from the time the "Buy an apple, help the unemployed" campaign began, until the weather became too warm and the apples lost their luster and flavor.

The figures are accurate, according to a local wholesale fruit dealer who handled the apple business for the sellers.

12 the hardness was given as 11.8 on May 14 as 11.9 and on May 24, 11.5.

DR. C. E. SAWYER HOST TO "32"

Civic Group Plans To Study
Questionnaires as Public Meetings End.

The axiom of "slow but sure" will be applied literally to Marion's welfare movement, it was made clear at a dinner meeting of Dr. Carl W. Sawyer with his civic committee of 32 at the Sawyer home on White Oaks farm last night.

The extensive and apparently somewhat ponderous movement to bring out and develop the best in Marion as well as point out and attempt to eliminate unsatisfactory conditions will evolve slowly, Dr. Sawyer told his committee, as the first step in the movement nears completion.

Questionnaires issued by Dr. Sawyer and answered by nearly 1,000 organizations, groups and individuals have brought out many suggestions and complaints. Each suggestion and complaint will be studied exhaustively before any action is considered, and when action is taken, it will be of a suggestive nature to persons or groups logically in a position to act, the committee has agreed.

Last night's meeting began with a dinner promised the "32" by Dr. Sawyer in the course of his series of meetings which hundreds of Marionites attended. Discussion was of a general nature, touching on a number of problems presented in the questionnaires.

Periodical meetings to investigate and study many of these problems will be held by the group, which will gather much information from various sources as these meetings progress. Nothing tangible may be presented in a public way for many months, as Dr. Sawyer and the committee are determined that every problem must be approached from every conceivable angle, and considered only in terms of city-wide benefit before any course of action is recommended.

Marionites will be called upon in a number of ways to aid in this careful study of their own problems as a city. The next step is a general meeting of all interested persons in the city, to be held some time after the dedication of Harding Memorial June 15.

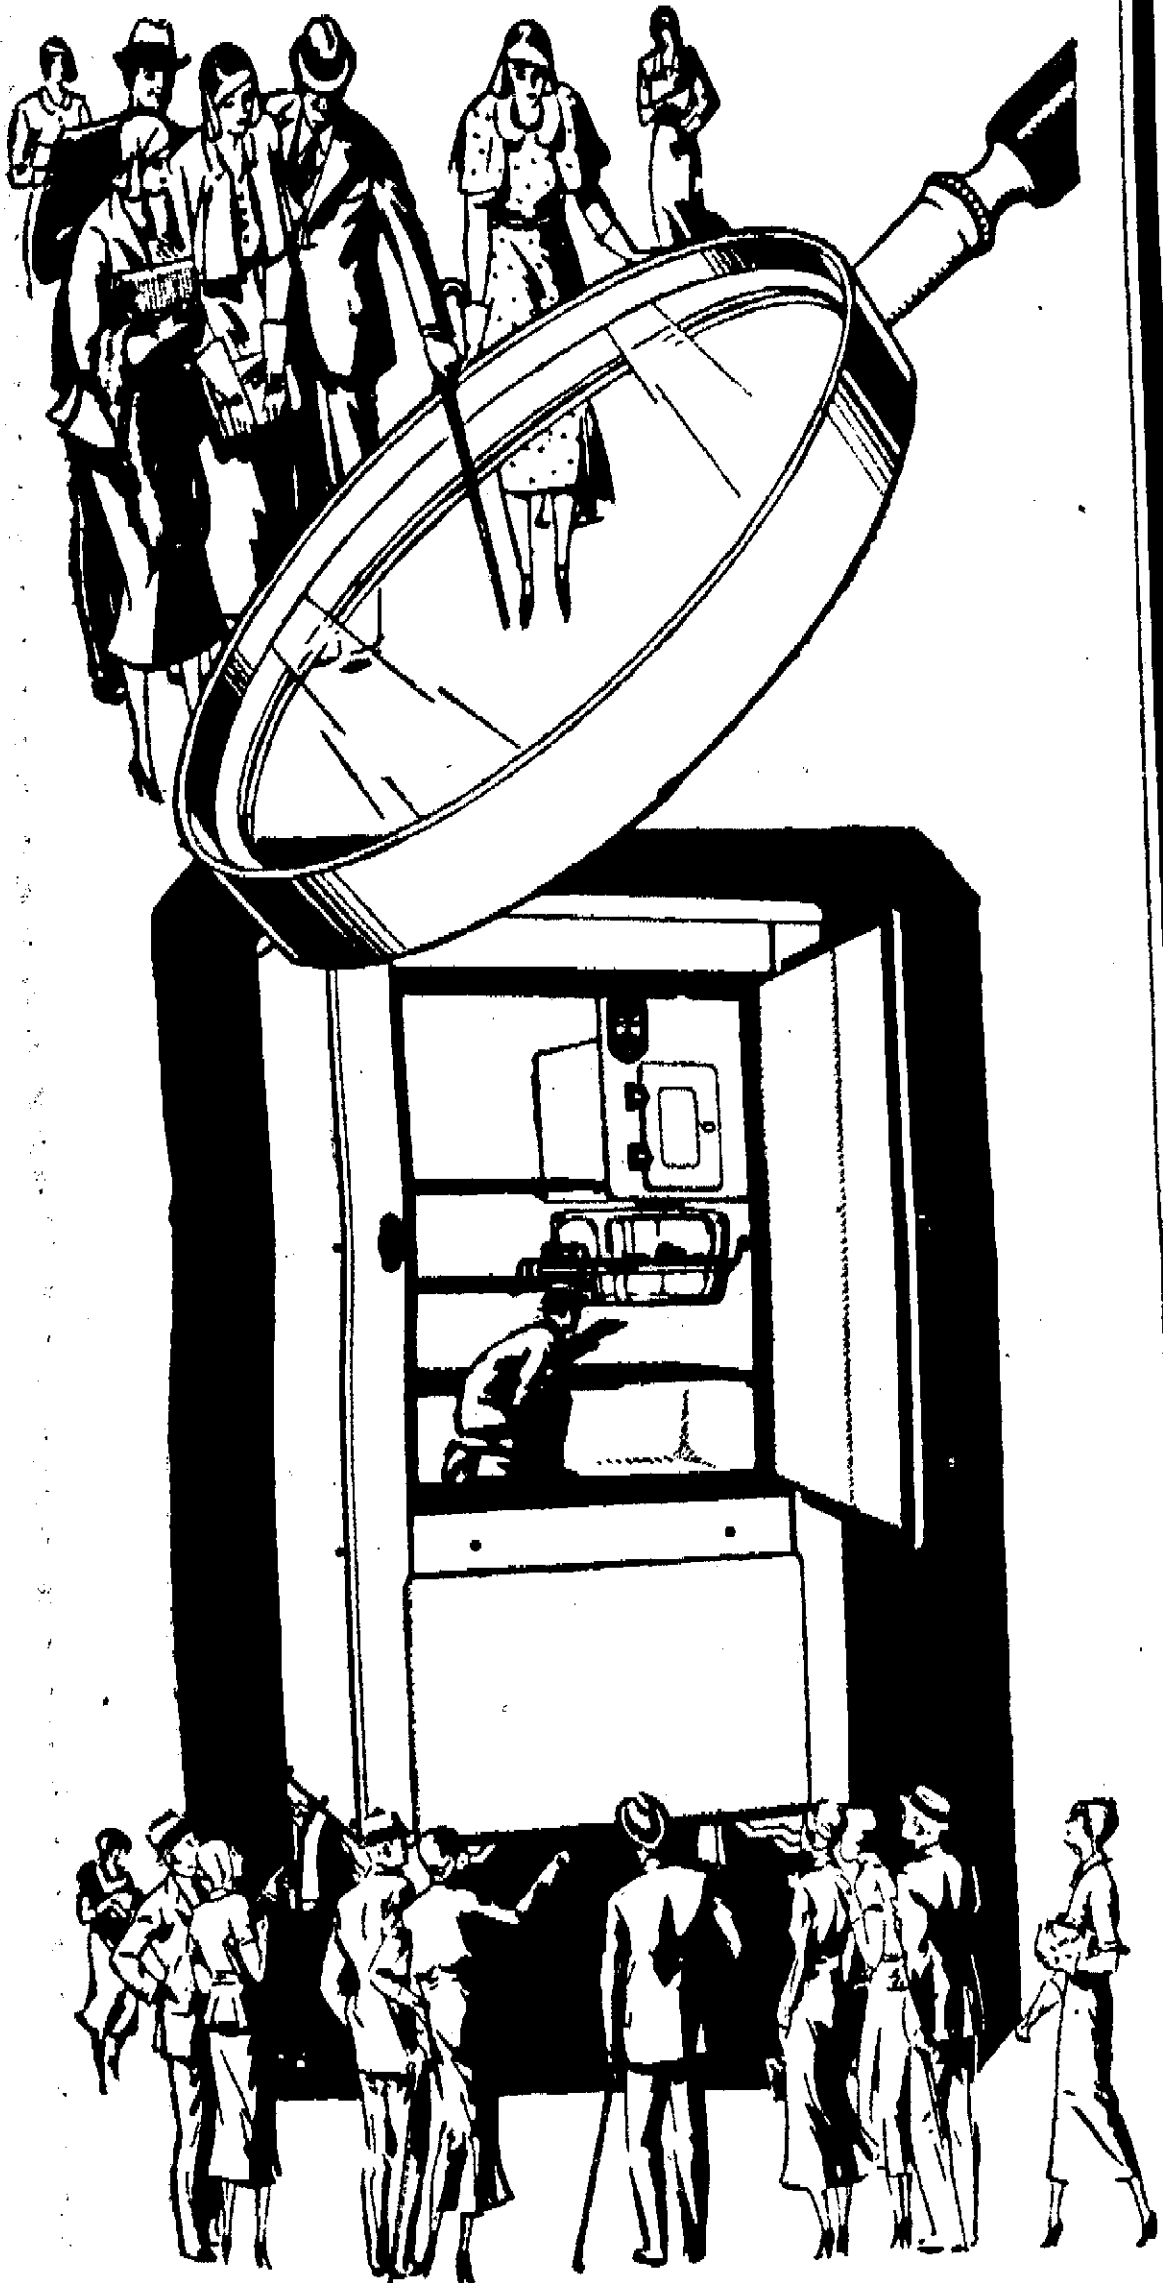

TO EXCHANGE PROGRAM

Mt. Olive grange will give an exchange program at a meeting of United Grange No. 1904 Thursday night at the Claridon school building. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mautz and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Retterer will be a refreshments committee. The Mt. Olive and United juvenile granges will meet together.

REPORT COLLISIONS

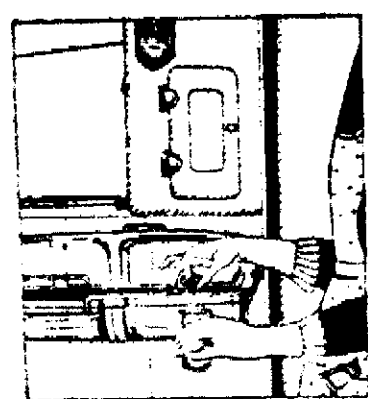

Two minor auto mishaps were reported to police last night. B. E. Belcher of 288 Fies avenue reported that a car bearing Ohio license E82-365 ran into his car at the intersection of Davids and Bennett streets and R. E. Diriam of 334 Thew avenue reported his car had been struck in the rear by a machine bearing Ohio license B55-688 on north State street. The cars in neither accident were badly damaged.

CITY FIREMEN TO HONOR DEAD

Department To Place Markers Graves of Former Members.

Members of the city fire fighting department who have died, by the department, on Memorial day, it was announced today. Markers to hold the dead will be placed on the graves this week.
The markers are of cast iron,
in the shape of a section of the fireman's helmet forming the outer rim. In the center in raised figures are a scaling ladder, plaster hook, helmet, trumpet and ax.

Both the casting of the markers and the steel rods used as the support were furnished to the firemen free by local concerns. American Malleable Casting Co. made the castings and the rods were furnished by the Pollak Steel Co.
Firemen at the central station with the assistance of men of the off crews of the other stations spent yesterday afternoon in getting the markers ready to take to the cemetery.

Markers will also be placed on the graves of those who because of their association with the department, are designated as "honorary members" of the department. These markers will be the same as those placed on the graves of the regular members, except that they will have the word "Honorary" arranged in form of a semi-circular over the top.

The committee in charge of obtaining and placing the markers is composed of Edward Ladd of station No. 3, chairman, Charles Thompson of station No. 2, secretary, and George Fetter of the central station, treasurer.

Daily Proverb—"Friendship is the balm as well as the seasoning of life."

France is planning to outclass the German "pocket battleship." Another manifestation in the great world movement for disarmament!

"Hoover with Vigor Bars Extra Session," reads a headline. No wonder. He has reason to know what extra sessions mean to the country.

Let us hope that the people of France will realize that we over here in the United States grow mighty careless at times in selecting our mayors.

Civil Washington understands that Frank
B. Kellogg will be the selection for chairman of the American delegation to the world disarmament conference in Geneva in 1932. Well, the government might go a long way further and do a lot worse.

Word comes from Bucharest, that King Carol, of Roumania, has barred Queen Helen from royal honors. Carol seems possessed to confirm the world impression that he is "rather small potatoes and few to the hill."

Elmer Pickle, Jr., an Illinois World war veteran, took a six-month jail sentence rather than borrow money on his government insurance to pay his wife alimony. We can imagine circumstances under which his course would be one for commendation.

General Ludendorff holds that France and Russia will be at war before the end of the present year and that Germany will be the scene of the conflict. The general has been down at that beer garden again.

It's better than a hundred-to-one shot that the Prospect husband and wife, who celebrated their sixty-second wedding anniversary Sunday, could throw mighty little light on the "great moral reform possibilities" of companionate marriage.

The National Federation of Post Office Clerks has appealed to President Hoover to intervene that its members may get the higher pay to which they are entitled by reason of length of service. The clerks are asking for their legal rights only, but even they must realize that the time is hardly ideal for demanding the promotions which would carry the increased pay.

Wet congressmen from the Chicago area are blaming the lawlessness in Washington to booze and graft. No doubt they are right, but why as members of congress should they seek to encourage it?

The result of a questionnaire submitted to ten college professors, twenty men student-and twenty co-eds in Northwestern university showed that Al Capone was favored as a news figure over Rudy Vallee, Jack Dempsey over Bishop Cannon, Bobby Jones over John Philip Sousa, Clara Bow over John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Peggy Joyce over the dean of women at the university. The thing doesn't look overly good on its face, even though there may be rather general commendation of the first selection.

"The Mail Must Go Through!"

The driving, ceaseless and sometimes cruel motto that has raised the United States postal service to an eminence of dependability has taken another life. Air Mail Pilot James D.
Cleveland, who set out from Cleveland airport Sunday night in the face of weather that was keeping other aviators grounded, crashed into a mountain near Bellefonte, Pennsylvania.
With him in the plane were 1,000 pounds of mail. Fire destroyed everything.

"The mail must go through."

There are usually one or more occasions every year when the critical citizen, safe at home, doubts the wisdom of allowing men to take such tremendous chances in the devotion of a governmental department to an unrelenting policy of service. Pilot Cleveland is not the first aviator who has lost his life while trying to get the mail to its destination at the earliest possible moment, despite highly dangerous conditions. Before the advent of the air mail service, there were other risks to complicate postal efficiency, and many lives were given up to them, too. The reputation of the postoffice department for devotion to service at any cost has been written indelibly in human blood.

Occasionally it means a life, and often a hardship, but unrelenting devotion to the high ideal of service expressed in the sentence have been of inestimable value to the nation's network of communication. However, in consideration of the tremendous loss incurred when the mail is lost in a hazardous attempt to carry it to its destination, perhaps a better motto might be: "The mail must go through safely."

Egg-Walking.

The interest of the United States in the customs-union protocol negotiated between Germany and Austria is anything but impersonal.
If the World court allows the union to stand, the state department will be obliged to do some extra fancy egg-walking to reach a satisfactory disposition of the "most-favored-nation" clause of the commercial treaty it holds with Germany. European nations face the same prospect of delicate diplomacy.

This country has an unconditional treaty with Germany, proclaimed in 1925, and to remain in force for ten years. The treaty binds each country to give to the nationals, vessels and goods of the other "the advantage of every favor, privilege, or immunity which it shall have accorded to the nationals, vessels and goods of a third state, and regardless of whether such favored state shall have been accorded such treatment gratuitously or in return for reciprocal compensatory treatment." It stipulates that each such favor, privilege or immunity which shall hereafter be granted the nationals of a third state shall simultaneously and unconditionally, without request and without compensation, be extended to the high contracting party.

The language of the treaty is far less complicated than the situation it may precipitate.
As matters stand, it would appear that Germany is obligated to grant free entry to American goods as soon as her customs union becomes effective, while German exports to the United States would still remain subject to the existing American tariffs. Incidentally, a similar treaty with Austria has been ratified by the United States, but not by Austria. Action is not likely to be forthcoming now.

The one escape from the treaty available to Germany is a claim that the customs union presents a special case not contemplated when the treaty was drawn. If this claim be denied by the United States, the treaty will be abrogated, in all probability. Disastrous confusion would be the result.

In the background rests the diplomatic correspondence of the United States, Germany and Austria for the last half century, which will be brought to light and scrutinized painstakingly for some clue that might make the looming problem yield. Such situations, dangerous as they are, make diplomacy interesting.

Seven persons killed in one day in this country in four airplane crashes. The birds still have a long lead on man in the art of flying.

Ohio-Mined Coal.

An official appeal urging Ohioans to burn Ohio-mined coal deserves careful attention. It is directly in line with the federal administration's policy of self-help. By giving Ohio miners employment, Ohio can make them independent of charity.

These points are made in the appeal, a part of which has consisted of sending letters to school board members urging them to consider Ohio coal for school purposes:

"Ohio produces bituminous coal of good quality.

"It meets plant heating requirements.

"It results in economical heating.

"Its purchase will give employment to men in the southern counties who are in desperate straits.

"It will provide labor for men engaged in transportation."

The struggle for survival causes men to depend on each other, in civilized communities.
In Ohio, that means that impoverished miners should be given the opportunity to benefit by the policy of self-help.

Speaking in terms of communities and the state, it is the only sensible one to follow when there is need. Those closest to the problem should furnish the solution.

There is no reason to doubt that Ohioans will heed the appeal made in behalf of Ohio miners, and will buy Ohio-mined coal whenever such action is practicable. It is a simple matter of common sense.

President Hoover expects the postoffice department to save $28,000,000. It could do that several times over were the franking privilege abandoned, but it is difficult to see congress taking so radical a step, much as it is needed.

To Outdo the Akron.

The United States right now anticipates sewing the biggest airship in the world take the air for the first time next summer at the Akron airport.

Germany, aware of the huge proportions of America's coming ship, already is looking forward to 1932, when its master of air channels, Dr. Hugo Eckener, will take an even larger ship into the air.

The first crude airships hatched out by Count Zeppelin were puny things compared with even the smallest of the present rigid ships. They were untied; no one was willing to risk much in them.

By the end of the war, larger airships had been constructed. Necessity was forcing nations to build larger ones. But the necessity that produced larger ones also destroyed them at a terrific rate.

Peace time was better adapted to the new engineering hobby. The huge mechanical birds that have been constructed since the war in France, Great Britain, Germany, and more recently in the United States, has started the world with their overwhelming size. But they will be puny beside the ship in the airlock at Akron. It, in turn, will be small beside the huge ship that Dr. Eckener intends to show the world.

Man is only beginning to realize the possibilities of the airship.

Having fallen off a cliff into a creek seventy feet below and been carried over a dam, a young woman of Eldorado Springs, Colorado, will live, while a lad of Oak Park, Illinois, who fell three feet off the trunk of a fallen tree, died as the result of an internal injury he suffered from the fall. Life is like that.

British pilots, trying out machines for the Schneider cup races, are said to have exceeded 360 miles an hour. It's really a relief to hear of some record being broken by somebody over there other than Captain Frank Hawks.
This country doesn't want to corner all of them.

THE ANVIL CHORUS.

Editorial Opinion.

ACTORS IN ENGLAND.

Honors recently paid to Charles Chaplin and now being paid to Douglas and Mary Fairbanks in London mark a great change in relationship in England between the higher realms of life and the acting profession. It is a far cry from the days when the actor was regarded as a servant and treated as an alter-ego inferior member of society. Even in Shakespeare's time the Thespian was rated as but a little better than a footman. He might gain the patronage of a member of the nobility and even bask in royal favor, but never as a social equal, or as anything more than a hired entertainer. A reminder of that relationship exists in the tradition that an actor, of any grade or style or specialty, must perform when royalty commands. It was this tradition that Chaplin defied when he refused to put on a vaudeville show to please the king. In these recent visitations the warmly-welcomed ex-ponents of the stage are now world-famed performers for the cinema stage. How far away, indeed, the screen from the Globe theatre or the lavender-tinted of the traveling troupe!
Chaplin, Fairbanks, Pickford, names known in every distant corner of the world, known to the people of every race, to those who use every language spoken on earth! And not only names to them, but actual personages, familiar in act and gesture and—save Chaplin—in speech. Gone, irrevocably, are the voices of those who entertained England by the medium of the theater three centuries ago, even thirty years ago. Most of those who played in the innyards are forgotten beyond any possible recollection. Three centuries hence, it may be, the antics of the "little fellow" of Roman blood and the gymnastics of the bigger fellow and the appealing naïveté and attractiveness of

EARLY AMERICAN.

When the compilers of a dictionary of American slang were unable to find an instance of the use of the word "bootlegger" in print earlier than 1889 or of "bootlegger" earlier than 1890, the Kansas City Star appealed to its readers, particularly those who lived in Kansas under state prohibition, for earlier examples of this American colloquy.
One of the Star's readers, Dr. Thomas J.
Hinkle, of Carbondale, Kansas, has come forward with testimony of his knowledge of use of "bootlegger" as early as 1883, when he was seven years old. On one occasion a Kansas marshal asked young Hinkle and several other boys who were standing in a group if they had seen a bootlegger enter an alley. All replied unhesitatingly that they had, the lack of hesitation confirming the doctor's impression that the word was a familiar one to them and that every boy of that generation had on one occasion or another seen half-pint bottles of whisky produced from hightop cowhide boots.

Dr. Hinkle believes that the word was derived from the common practice; he supports his belief by recalling that the met. who indulged in these nefarious practices commonly wore, spring, summer and fall, blue flannel shirts, jeans and high boots, so that the boots offered the only convenient hiding place for half-pint bottles.

The compilers of the dictionary may reject
Dr. Hinkle's testimony. They seek printed evidence of the use of "bootlegger" earlier than 1890. If the word was familiar to a seven-year-old child in Kansas in 1883, a search through the files of the Kansas newspapers of that period might reward the dictionary makers.—New York Sun.

It was considered remarkable that he was

six minutes and fly over a mountain range 3,000 feet high.

"I don't see how anybody could express such

"Crooks" Due to Posture.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

"Scoliosis" is a harsh word, hard to spell and to pronounce. It is the name of an unpleasant condition.

By scoliosis is meant a distortion of the spinal column, resulting in a lateral displacement, or twisting. The twist occurs either toward the right or left side of the body, always away from the middle. No longer is the spine straight up and down, but it dips to one side.

As a result of this condition the body is carried at an abnormal angle. The shoulders are not on the same level—one is higher than the other. On examination there may be seen a bulging of the shoulder blade.

Of course, there are all degrees of this condition. Many cases are quite apparent and may be detected by any one. Other cases are so mild that only the experienced eye can discover them.

Scoliosis may be caused by one of several conditions. It may be a result of certain diseases of the bone, such as rickets and tuberculosis. It may follow what is known as "arthritis deformans." It may be produced by congenital hip disease. The treatment in these cases depends upon the cause and cure of the underlying trouble.

Likewise, scoliosis may be a functional disturbance. By this is meant that the condition is not due to change of structure by disease, but is the result of faulty posture.

The last is the most common form and it is a type most easily remedied. As a matter of fact, we are so alive to its dangers that we have thrown away our defective school furniture, which used to be one of the chief causes of this condition.

Modern schools are furnished with desks and seats that are adjustable to the size of the pupil. By proper seating, no undue strain is placed upon the back of the growing child.

Scoliosis is frequently seen in adults. It is common in blacksmiths, fencing masters and waiters. It is of frequent occurrence in any occupation where excessive use of one arm impairs the normal posture of the body.

In children, training in posture and special exercises are recommended. These exercises must be given under the supervision of one who is an expert in this particular work.

Every effort should be made to prevent scoliosis rather than to treat it. Correct posture, training in walking and sitting, as well as supervised gymnastic work, should be part of every child's education.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

L. T. Q.—I am a man of forty-six and have been operated on for a gastric ulcer. I felt fine after the operation, but seem to have similar symptoms again—what would you advise?

A.—Your present trouble is probably due to hyperacidity. Watch your diet and keep your bowels open. Avoid excessive sweets and rich, heavy foods and keep the system in proper working order. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

MRS. G. Q.—What causes a buzzing in the ear?

A.—This is often due to nasal catarrh which has extended to the middle ear.

J. R. T. Q.—What do you advise for dandruff?

A.—What causes low blood pressure?

A.—Frequent shampooing of the hair and using a good hair tonic. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

A.—This is a condition usually found accompanying such diseases as infection, fever, anemia, diabetes, shock, general debility and auto-intoxication.

MRS. C. R. Q.—What can I put on my fingernails to prevent their breaking off so easily?

A.—Try application of a good cold cream or olive oil—and avoid putting the hands in water as much as possible.

J. A. B. Q.—What will stop the habit of biting the finger-nails?

A.—If the will power is not strong enough to stop the habit try painting the nails with tincture of asafoetida—this has a most unpleasant taste and should be effective under the circumstances.

MISS D. A. R. Q.—How can hardening of the arteries be diagnosed? The patient is a man of seventy-two who has attacks resembling acute indigestion—would this be hardening of the arteries? He is active in every way. What would help the pain?

A.—See the doctor for examination. Blood pressure would be a factor under the circumstances. The pain might be due to a number of different conditions. Hardening of the arteries is very apt to be present in a man of this age. His doctor will outline the necessary treatment after he has diagnosed the trouble.

Exploring Space.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

For a good many years, scientists have been hoping to consider the problem of greatly increasing the size of our telescope. Contrary to popular opinion, glass is by no means the best material for making telescopic mirrors. With even a slight access of heat, glass is subject to distortions; and this is the greatest possible handicap. About thirty years ago Professor Elihu Thompson was influenced to make a study of quartz or silica, as a material for telescope disks, because it is almost impervious to heat. Although he satisfied himself that quartz was the ideal material, he dropped his researches, as there was no pressing demand for such experimentation.
Within the past few years, his attention has again been directed to the subject, chiefly because it has been discovered that fused quartz was transparent for ultra-violet light and had admirable qualities as an electric insulator.
The outcome was the serious undertaking of the manufacture of quartz telescope mirrors.

Sand was melted, to serve as a rough base, and the surface of this was then coated with refined quartz. Of the various methods for applying this coating, the one finally adopted was to feed fine quartz into a blow torch, with the result that this powdery substance was homogeneously melted in the flame.

Three years ago, Professor Thompson achieved signal success with an eleven-inch disk. The possibilities for the future of astronomy were so immense that astronomers immediately raised the question: Why not a disk twenty times as large as this?

So impressed were the members of the international education board that funds were provided for the construction of a 200-inch telescope. It was specifically stated that this telescope was to be used for the benefit of the astronomers of the world. Before embarking upon this huge experiment, the General Electric company decided to make first, if possible, a satisfactory disk, sixty-six inches in diameter. It is an extraordinary instance of the splendid cooperative spirit of modern business that the Thompson Research laboratory undertook this experiment at its own expense, although it required a large outlay for the manufacture and setting up of entirely new, greatly enlarged machinery.

Many grave difficulties had to be overcome.
For instance, the consumption of hydrogen was enormous and of all proportion to results and value. Experimentation provided a substitute in butane, a hydrocarbon in oil wells, from which the hydrogen was released by the cracking process. Owing to the expensive Brazilian crystal, resort was had to Maine quartz; and this powdered quartz had to be sifted out while wet and afterwards dried at a temperature of 100 degrees Fahrenheit.

The process of blowing on the surface coating of molten quartz was long and slow. Layer after layer of even coating had slowly to be laid on. For instance, a coating five-eighths of an inch thick was laid on a twenty-two-inch disk. The volume of the coating laid on the sixty-six inch, only three times the diameter of the former, was 225 times as great. This was a gigantic advance, almost larger than engineers could well have hoped for, at a single bound. The next step, from the sixty-six-inch to the 200-inch will represent a proportional advance, fortunately, however, not 225, but of only twenty-two. There seems no reason now to doubt that within a few years the construction of the proposed 200-inch disk will be successfully completed.

It has been computed that the new telescope will multiply the ability of the astronomer to plumb stellar spaces by at least ten-fold. Such a multiplication of power will result in countless discoveries beyond the capacity of even scientists to predict. Copyright, 1931, King

The Oldest Ohio Road.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

The oldest road in Ohio, says Professor A.
R. Hurlbut in his story of the "Highways of Ohio," is in Summit county. It is known as "The Portage Path," a name that suggests its ancient origin, but not all of it. He explains that he means the oldest road that still is in use as a road.

Nearly every part of the state has its "ridge road." The reason for its name is obvious. It runs along a crest of land. But not many guess it was so located. In nearly every case it was originally a buffalo trail. These heavy animals with sharp feet must have fairly hard and firm ground on which to travel to new pastures and to salt licks, and instinctively they traveled the high grounds.

The Indians found them convenient for their use and so far as they were available the buffalo trails were made into Indian trails. Doubtless the "Portage Path" was of such origin.
Before man came it was an animal highway.
Before the white man came it was an Indian trail. Professor Hurlbut thinks it quite possible that La Salle may have used the route in passing from the waters of Lake Erie over into those draining into the Ohio, though hardly probable.

Certainly the Indians used it to carry their canoes over from the Cuyahoga to the upper Tuscarawas river. Its eight miles are so well known when the Greenville treaty was made that it was described as a part of the boundary between the Indians' and the lands of the United States.

With practically no change in all these years,
the road is now a heavy traffic highway and a noted street through the city of Akron. For hundreds of years it has borne a constantly increasing burden of traffic under the feet of animals, men and machines and its burden is still increasing.

Sore, Tired Feet

Oh! How good it feels to put your tired aching feet in a "TIZ" bath! You can just feel the pain being drawn out and grateful comfort being restored.

"TIZ" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet and make them tender and sore. It takes all the soreness out of corns, calluses and strained muscles and makes tight shoes feel a half size larger. Get a box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store and have weeks of foot comfort for a few cents.
